CHARLOTTE, N.C., Jan. 22, 2009 – Investment banker and author Rob Slee presented “Lawyers as Gatekeepers to the Private Capital Markets” to the Mecklenburg County Bar at the Crowne Plaza Charlotte today.

“In learning how to make better financing and investment decisions in a private company, lawyers become more value-added for clients, firms and themselves,” said Mr. Slee. This is the fifth consecutive year that the Charlotte Bar has sponsored the event.

Rob Slee is a private business owner, investment banker and the nation’s foremost speaker on the topic of private capital markets. Mr. Slee’s first book, Private Capital Markets, was published in 2004 by John Wiley & Sons and launched the study of Private Finance as a research and practice discipline. His second book, Midas Managers, recounts and explains the real-world strategies of some of the world’s most successful private businesses. Applying the theories outlined in Private Capital Markets, the work provides detailed examples of how successful private business owners have built value into their companies. Mr. Slee’s forthcoming book – Midas Marketing – shows how Midas Managers have used creative marketing strategies to build their businesses. Mr. Slee is widely published, having written more than 150 articles on private finance topics.
